

Working Student (m/f/d) – Marketing, Administration, Investment & Business Operations

Who we are

Focused Energy GmbH is a Fusion startup with the goal of using fusion to generate clean electrical energy for the increasing societal demand. The founders include two highly renowned scientists and a long-time entrepreneur and founder of several successful startups. With the use and commercialization of envisioned laser-induced inertial fusion, a clean and highly efficient power generation technology is coming within reach, suitable to ensure a secure and scalable energy supply of the future with globally available resources.

Position

As a Working Student (m/f/d) you will work with highly qualified developers, researchers, and entrepreneurs. You will be supporting the fundraising and investment activities as well as any related business & marketing administration tasks.

Your extensive duties can be outlined as follows:

- Fund raising support
- Pitch deck draft /tuning
- CRM (Investors) Administration
- Investment & Market Research
- Call & Meeting coordination
- Travel booking
- Marketing, PR & Events Administration & Coordination
- General operations tasks

Profile

Professional qualification

You are studying business administration or a comparable study and already have professional experience ideally in a highly dynamic environment. You are fluent in German and English and communicate easily in writing or verbally.

You should bring the following methodological skills to the table:

- Structured approach to work
- Business and financial knowledge
- Good time management

focused-energy.world

info@focused-energy.world

- Flexibility and resilience
- Project management

Personality

You are a team player and have a strong social sensitivity and emotional intelligence.

With your structured and proactive personality, you like to take responsibility and always take the initiative even in challenging situations.

You are able to inspire colleagues, partners and investors with your excellent communication skills and positive charisma.

You see yourself as a partner of your colleagues and are able to recognize the different concerns of an organization and ensure smooth processes.

With your strong hands-on mentality, you enjoy helping shape the success in a dynamic, innovative company.

If you are interested, please contact: jobs@focused-energy.world